

Hidden Places of Herefordshire, Worcestershire & Shropshire

This is the 4th edition of a Hidden Places title covering Herefordshire, Worcestershire and Shropshire - three counties with differing characters. Worcestershire is a county of rich, fruit-bearing, fertile lowlands through which flow the rivers Avon and Severn characterised by stone farms and black and white timber houses. Herefordshire on the other hand is a wooded, undulating county with a plethora of interesting small villages and hamlets and pleasant country lanes. Shropshire however has a rich industrial heritage, but is full of stately homes, attractive gardens and many other visitor attractions. The book explores this historical, cultural and scenic diversity and is packed with information on the more secluded and little known venues for food, accommodation and places of interest as well as the more enduring attractions of the area. Readers have been very pleased with previous editions - We have been reading the Hidden Places of Hereford and Worcester and are totally fascinated by the detailed information which we have followed with much pleasure. - a reader from Upton Snodsbury, Worcestershire. The attractive cover design is based on a water colour painting of the beautiful village of Eardisland near Leominster.
