

The Betrayal of Democracy

The few who understand the system, will either be so interested in its profits, or so dependent on its favours that there will be no opposition from that class (politicians) while on the other hand, the great body of people, mentally incapable of comprehending the tremendous advantages...will bear its burden without complaint, and perhaps without suspecting that the system is inimical to their best interests (the electorate).(Rothschild Brothers of London June 25, 1863; communique to associates in New York).This statement, if anything, is an honest one and stands in total contradiction to those so called Christian politicians, who want us to believe in the merits of an illusory democracy. As Bauer, alias Rothschild, said: give the money and I do not care who makes the law. Never was a truer word spoken. Whenever a minority takes over the control of the economy and society, the outcome is slavery for all.
