Not illustrated. 1877 Excerpt: ...looked after the boys out of school. 3371. Did they punish the boys?--They did so. without proper orders; there was no one to control them. I have often seen them box a boys ears. 3372. Without being told by any one of the masters to do it?--Yes. 3373. Did you ever see them cane a boy without being told to do so by the masters?--No, they did not have canes, they had no means of doing it. I have seen the beadles hit-the boys with the rounder sticks that the boys play rounders with. 3374. There is a Committee of the old Blues, is there not?--I do not know anything of that. I merely came because Dr. Allen was here on Tuesday. Dr. Allen is a personal friend of mine, he wrote to me yesterday, and said that he would like to hear my evidence. I saw him last night, and I have come in consequence. I know nothing about any one else, though I believe there are some resolutions outside to be signed by the old Blues. 3375. (The Chairman.) Between the time when you came here and the time when you left, that is in the year 1872 or 1873, did you notice any decided difference in the state of the school with regard to bullying, either on the part of the monitors or on the part of the masters?--The bullying certainly decreased. Mr. Bell did, no doubt, put it down more than anything. He had an objection to a bully. He said publicly that he had an objection to a bully, and he would not have it. 3376. Did that make the monitors more careful in superintending the wards?--Mr. Bell selected the monitors; he put boys of a better class for monitors. 3377. You were some years with Mr. Bell?--Yes. 3378. Then in the last year of your school life, should you say that the amount of bullying of which you have been speaking here to-day, on the part of the monitors was considerably diminish...
